Center

Recovery Community Centers provide non-clinical voluntary peer support, such as mutual aid groups (AA, SMART Recovery, Wellbriety, etc.), recovery coaching, social connection and wellness activities. The backbone of a RCC is volunteers from the recovery community, who instill hope, role model recovery, and dispel stigma. RCCs provide education and advocacy, and develop recovery capital in local communities.

PRCC serves as the Maine Recovery Hub to eight recovery community center spokes and coordinates the Maine Recovery Coalition. All services at RCCs are offered free of charge.
